1. Menstrual Health and Hygiene

Empowering Menstrual Health and Hygiene: Life Foundation's Initiative in Hojai District, Assam

In a step towards enriching accessible and affordable menstrual health and hygiene, Life Foundation conducted a program on the distribution of Sanitary Napkin Vending Machines and Incinerators to 30 government schools and colleges in Hojai district, Assam. The event took place on Saturday, February 3, 2024, at the Life Foundation office in Dakhin Golaghatia Basti, Hojai, Assam.

The initiative, titled "A Step towards Achieving Accessible and Affordable Clean and Green Menstrual Health and Hygiene," is made possible through the generous support of MSTC Ltd., Kolkata, as part of its Corporate Social Responsibility. Life Foundation, the implementing NGO, coordinated a crucial program aimed at benefiting the young girls and women in the region.

The program witnessed the well-regarded presence of Kamal Dutta, a renowned teacher and social worker of Hojai, who graced the occasion by lighting the ceremonial lamp and lauded the foundation initiative for taking up the important issue of menstrual health in the district. MSTC officials from Kolkata also joined the event.

Bijoy Mondal, the Secretary of Life Foundation, introduced the details of the initiative to the audience and also presented a demonstration of the machines to the media and the attending representatives of the schools/colleges. Also, Imliben Lemtur, the Director of Life Foundation hailing from Dimapur, Nagaland, shared her joy and pride during the event. She expressed her happiness in being part of an initiative that addresses a critical aspect of young girls' lives in rural areas – a topic often shrouded in silence and misunderstanding. Lemtur conveyed her honest desire to make a positive impact and highlighted the importance of breaking societal taboos surrounding menstrual health. Moreover, she expressed her eagerness to work together on future projects, extending beyond Hojai to include other districts of Assam and Nagaland.

Headmasters, Principals, and teachers from the recipient schools and colleges actively participated in the program, receiving the Sanitary Napkin Vending Machines and Incinerators. These machines are designed to provide a simple and affordable solution for menstrual hygiene management, especially in the rural areas.

Students can conveniently access sanitary pads by inserting a 5 rupee coin or one rupee coin five times, or two 2 rupee coins and one 1 rupee coin into the vending machine. The live demonstration showcased during the event demonstrated the ease of use of the vending machine and educated the attendees on proper disposal of used napkins in the incinerator.

The initiative not only addresses the essential need for menstrual hygiene products but also empowers the community with knowledge on proper usage and disposal.

Life Foundation's practical step towards Menstrual Health and Hygiene has been met with enthusiasm and gratitude from the school and college representatives present at the event. The initiative is sure to create a lasting impact, promoting a healthier and more informed community within the district.
